Reem Acra Fall Winter 2012 Collection is Golden

For Fall Winter 2012, Designer Reem Acra demonstrates that all that glitters is indeed gold as she deftly incorporates striking touches of gold throughout her inspired and glamorous womenswear collection as seen by LuxuryExperience during Mercedes-Benz Fashion Week Lincoln Center in New York.

When it comes to sophisticated radiance, there is nothing like the shimmer of gold to light up a room and complement all complexion types. New York based Designer Reem Acra maximizes the impact of her dark color palette for Fall Winter 2012, that is glamorously and decadently enhanced with, or is shown in varying shades of gold.

The 36-look Fall Winter 2012 collection features elegant coats, cocktail suits, as well as cocktail dresses with hemlines ranging from mid-thigh, at, and just below the knee, to complement personal preferences and style. Some of the dresses feature illusion fabric shot with gold, other dresses and gowns feature asymmetrical one-shoulder bias cuts, and two daring black gowns feature figure revealing cutouts and thigh high side slits in the skirts for those looking for "the wow" factor.

One of the many gown highlights of the collection seen at the show was a sophisticated and sexy plunging v-neckline black bodice crisscrossed with gold gown with a dramatic very deep plunging v-back and flowing black ruffled skirt. Reem's deft use of gold as an accent and the use of contrasting fabrics made the gown a winner.

In the "all that glitters is gold" category, was a stunning strapless slinky gold patterned gown that featured a small pooling train designed to create a dramatic entrance. Also wonderful was a sleeveless round neckline gold figure-hugging gown with accent beading and intricate gold patterns throughout that emphasized movement and deftly caught the light. Another highlight in the gown category was a graceful long sleeve figure-hugging patterned burnished gold gown with slightly belle shaped hemline. For fall 2012, the colorful leaves on the trees will not be the only ones wearing gold.
