

Woody Sez: The Life and Music of Woody Guthrie - Westport Country Playhouse, Westport, CT

Woody Sez: The Life and Music of Woody Guthrie at the Westport Country Playhouse in Westport, Connecticut, is absolutely fabulous! Featuring David M. Lutken, Katie Barton, David Finch, and Leenya Rideout, the show captures the amazing spirit of singer, songwriter, poet, novelist, and activist, Woody Guthrie. Born in 1912, Woody Guthrie died in 1967 of Huntington's Disease, however in those 55 years, what he created and achieved still resonates throughout the world. If you love Americana music, this is one show you will not want to miss. The show runs until January 20, 2018.

Born in a small town in Oklahoma in 1912, he experienced the economic shift that affected America - oil rushes, dust bowls, the migration of people to California in search of work and a better life. By car, rail, foot, and often by thumb, Woody traveled around the country traveling to Texas, California, Oregon, and to New York City multiple times on the shifting winds of prosperity to support his family. Married three times, the early loss of his parents, his siblings, and some of his several children, as well as serving in the Merchant Marine and in the Army during World War II, his life was the fuel for his pen, writing nearly 3,000 song lyrics, publishing 2 novels, writing countless articles, appearing on radio shows, supporting countless causes, and creating art work.

We saw "Woody Sez: The Life and Music of Woody Guthrie" at the Westport Country Playhouse on Friday, January 12, 2018, and were duly impressed. Devised by the dream team of David M. Lutken, Nick Corley, Darcie Deaville, Helen Jean Russell, and Andy Tierstein, the show is an homage to an American icon - Woody Guthrie.

The heavily credentialed and multi-talented cast capture Woody Guthrie's talent and amazing spirit through his own words and his music, with the actors singing and playing a range of acoustic Americana instruments including guitar, fiddle, banjo, mandolin, jaw harp, harmonica, and dulcimer. David M. Lutken deftly handles the role of Woody Guthrie and delivers a tour de force performance, along with the stellar cast of Katie Barton, David Finch, and Leenya Rideout.

As children, we grew up learning and singing Woody Guthrie songs in school, including This Land Is Your Land, This Train Is Bound For Glory, and many more, and the show reinforces Woody's timely message through his over 24 songs that remain especially relevant in our current times.

Woody Guthrie's vast influence on a few of past and present musicians can be best explained through their own words.

"It wasn't just one song ...it was hundreds of songs. It was every day, every person that he encountered. It was all of those little gifts that he gave, that was his work."- Ani DiFranco

"It wasn't fantasy. It was a dream. Hey, a dream for more justice, less oppression, less racism, less hatred. Period."- Bruce Springsteen

"I think he must have been a genius."- Jimi Hendrix

"You could listen to his songs and actually learn how to live."- Bob Dylan

Dallas Texas native David M. Lutken writes, "The idea for the show came out of a desire for people in America and around the world to know more about the life of a fellow from my part of the world whom I've greatly admired for a long time. Not only his songs, but his life, lifestyle, and the persona he created for himself have all been examined and referenced and imitated for two or three generations now, but "Woody Sez" is an attempt to channel something more through theater. It's the spirit of the man through his 'Life & Music' that I want the audience to feel and see and hear - and 'get'."

Since the first performance at the 2007 at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, "Woody Sez" has continued to delight audiences around the world and has played in over 60 cities in the UK, United States, Europe, the Middle East, and China.

Clearly, people are 'getting it.' Bravo to the cast and creative team of Woody Sez: The Life and Music of Woody Guthrie on an amazing achievement that would make Woody Guthrie proud.

The Westport Country Playhouse named as "Theatre Company of the Year" in December 2013 by The Wall Street Journal, opened in the 1930s in a transformed 1835 cowbarn, which has, and continues to attract, a "who's who" of prominent actors. Looking at the framed posters of past shows that line the lobby walls was like entering an encyclopedia of the arts. A few of the many renowned actors who have appeared on the stage there include Ethyl Barrymore, Dorothy and Lillian Gish, Tallulah Bankhead, Gloria Swanson, Don Ameche, Hume Cronin and Jessica Tandy, Jane Fonda, Danny Aiello, Blythe Danner, Jill Clayburgh, Richard Dreyfus, Whoopi Goldberg, Liza Minnelli, Bernadette Peters, Lynn Redgrave, Gene Wilder, and Westport residents Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman.

"Westport Country Playhouse, a not-for-profit theater, serves as a cultural nexus for patrons, artists and students and is a treasured resource for the State of Connecticut. There are no boundaries to the creative thinking for future seasons or the kinds of audiences and excitement for theater that Westport Country Playhouse can build."
