Joanne Shaw Taylor co-wrote 9 of the 11-tracks on the Wild release, and fully does justice to 2 great covers, the Dimitri Tiomkin and Ned Washington song, Wild Is The Wind, and the George Gershwin and DuBose Heyward song, Summertime. Joanne Shaw Taylor struts her stuff with her powerful vocals and proves her mastery as a top Blues Rock guitarist, as well as songwriter. For readers not yet familiar with Joanne Shaw Taylor, as a bit of a backstory, she is a name to know and follow in the world of Blues/Rock. She started playing with recognition at the age of 16 and has made her impact on the international and British Blues/Rock world. I first became acquainted with Joanne's impressive talent with her debut release, White Sugar, reviewed in the Music Scene in LuxuryExperience in 2009. Since then, her star has continued to rise. In 2010 and 2011 she won Best Female Vocalist at the British Blues Awards and won Songwriter of the Year award (for the song, Same As It Never Was off her Diamonds In The Dirt release) in 2011. With an eye to the US market while keeping her British roots, Joanne Shaw Taylor now makes her home in Detroit, Michigan and Birmingham, England.

Her latest 11-track release, Wild, hits the streets on August 31, 2018, and is one that fans of Blues/Rock will want to add their collection. Joanne has done it again crafting a well-executed release that showcases her many talents as a songwriter, vocals that can rock the house, and accomplished guitarist, and pulls out all the stops and layers in some fabulous slide guitar.

Wild opens with the explosive track Dyin' To Know written by Joanne Shaw Taylor and James House and has a hypnotic rhythmic drumbeat that sets the tone of this wonderful release. Next up is the track, Ready To Roll, written by Joanne Shaw Taylor, Gary Nicholson, and Rob McNelly who also plays guitar on the release. Catchy lyrics and Joanne Shaw Taylor's powerful vocals combined with the backing vocals by Mahalia Barnes, Juanita Tippins and Jade MacRae make this song a standout.

There are many memorable songs on this release; Get You Back written by Joanne Shaw Taylor and Gary Nicholson is one of them. Next on the playlist is No Reason To Stay, with Joanne Shaw Taylor and James House teaming up again on the writing credits.

Joanne slows the pace to let the listener catch a breath with the beautifully written track, Wild Is The Wind, written by Dimitri Tiomkin and Ned Washington, then segues into Wanna Be My Lover, another great collaboration between Joanne Shaw Taylor and James House, that picks up the pace.

I'm In Chains has a hard driving long instrumental opening before deftly sliding into the lyrics. Joanne slows the pace with the beautiful lament, I Wish I Could Wish You Back written by Joanne Shaw Taylor and James House, which also has lovely instrumentals. Picking up the pace, the release slides into the up-tempo My Heart's Got A Mind Of Its Own written by Joanne Shaw Taylor, Leon Russel, and Gary Nicholson, which is one of my favorite tracks on the release. The song has great lyrics, Joanne's powerful vocals, the blazing horns of Paulie Cerra on sax and Lee Thornberg on trumpet, and Steve Nathan working his magic on the keys.

Next on the playlist is the song, Nothin' To Lose written by Joanne Shaw Taylor and Kim Tribble, which continues the up-tempo punch. Joanne Shaw Taylor closes the release with her beautiful cover of the 1934 George Gershwin and DuBose Heyward song, Summertime, which was created for the 1935 opera Porgy and Bess. Joanne's interpretation is evocative of some of the great ladies of Jazz and her voice sounds amazing, that together with beautiful keys work by Steve Nathan make it a fitting close to a fabulous release.

Until next time, keep enjoying the music!
